Ancestors Report

My ancestors report is about my grandpa, Paul Christain Brown. In this article, I will tell you all about him, and some of the things he and his family have done.

This paragraph names some facts about my Grandpa Brown. My grandpa is sixty-five years old. When he was a kid, he lived all around the world. Some examples of the places he lived are: Columbia, Indonesia, Irac, Iran, and The United States. He is short, has brown hair and glasses. He is really good at fixing things, and building things. He once built a shed in his own backyard! He was 25 years old when he got married, and got married to Allyson Weist on August 24, 1982. He had 5 kids, including my mom. The oldest is my mom's sister, Aimee Brown, my mom (Heather Brown) is the 2nd oldest, my uncle, David Brown, is the 3rd oldest, My uncle Hyrum Brown, is the 4th oldest, and my uncle Christain Brown, is the youngest. He has 5 siblings, four brothers and one sister.

I did an interview with my grandpa and he told me some of his experiences when he was younger. The first experience I will talk about is my grandpa's scariest experience. One time, when my grandpa was living in Chile, (one of the cities he lived in) he went to play in the river. He was climbing on a big rock next to the river, when he slipped and accidentally fell in! He almost got washed away by the river and could have died. To prevent that, he grabbed a rock to hang onto, but he lost his grip and his hands slipped off the rock! He tried to grab another rock, but he slipped again! So he grabbed another rock, but this time he was able to pull himself onto the rock, and save himself. But he looked on the edge and saw that there were no other rocks that could have saved him or else he would have been swept away by the current. My grandpa said that his happiest experience was when he got married in the temple. He said that his saddest experience was when his mom died (my great grandma). He had a lot of sad experiences though. His mom died of emphysema. Emphysema is a condition in which your lungs are damaged and it gets hard to breathe. She was only 65 years old when she died, the same age as my grandpa right now. That is my grandpa's saddest experience.

That concludes my facts about my grandpa, Paul Christain Brown.
Now you know him better than you did when you just started this essay. I hope you had fun learning about him!
