

News From Nearby Towns

Summit.

Mr. Robert Fox of Frisco spent a few days in Summit this week. Mr. Fox wants to purchase land and water in this vicinity.

Among those who attended the Stake quarterly conference held at Cedar City were, Bp. Charles R. Dalley, Samuel S. Fife, Jos. B. Dalley, Norah Madsen. They report having had a most excellent time.

The Relief Society sisters of this place gave their annual party on the 21st of this month. A large crowd was in attendance and they enjoyed themselves in dancing and feasting.

Mr. Charles F. Hulet of Newcastle, who has been here in Summit since last December having been confined to his bed and suffering keenly all the time, was taken to his home last week in an auto. The trip was a severe one for him as the day was cold and the roads bad and a great deal of time was spent in traveling. Dr. Green of Cedar City went with him to be in attendance during the trip.

Newcastle

Marion Searle came down from Provo Friday for the summer and is going to work for H. L. Bracken.

Hugh Ash is at the hotel for a few days rest.

Miss Hilda Hulet of Newcastle is visiting Miss Lorine Morrison.

G. A. Anderson of Salt Lake registered at the hotel during the week.

T. W. Jones went to Salt Lake on business the first of the week.

Frank W. Worsley returned to his home in Centerville, after working a month at the tunnel.

Andrew Morrison, the man that fell from a barn and broke his wrist, is doing nicely.

St. Patricks' day was observed with a dance at night.

Ernest Pickering and his brother Simion, have shipped in lumber to build a house on their dry farm.

Grantville Barlow of West Point, Utah, has moved into one of the company bungalows.

Roy Pack has returned after spending some time in Bountiful.

Clarence Eldridge of Woods Cross arrived Sunday with the first car load of farming implements and 2 pairs of fine mares, which cost $1000 a pair in Eastern Iowa. This car of equipments is for his new 400 acre farm. Two more cars will arrive within ten days.

Mr. G. Barlow had the misfortune to mash one of his fingers while unloading his car.

Mrs. James Knell has returned from Salt Lake and Provo where she has been visiting relatives and friends.

Harry L. Bracken reports that he will start operations on the Newcastle Reclamation Company's main canal between April first and fifth. This outfit consists of a 100-horse power gas tractor, which will pull two elevating graders, capable of moving between 4000 and 5000 cubic yards every 24 hours. This outfit is electrically lighted, which enables as rapid operation at night as during the day.

J. S. Sevy arrived at Newcastle from Minersville where he and engineer Klinschmidt have been surveying a canal from Minersville to Milford for the Beaver Reclamation Co. Mr. Sevy reports very favorably on this project.