

NEWCASTLE NEWS

The beautiful weather which is in evidence at this time is not the kind of weather we pray for at this time of year. The water which we get from Grassvalley and Pinevalley depends all together on the winter snows. No snow, no water. At the present time there is very little snow in the mountains. Of course, there is plenty of time yet, if it will just begin snowing. The good year we enjoyed in 1937 yielded plenty of hay and corn, resulting in slaughtering of more fat hogs and the shipping of more cream than has been for a good many years before.

A number of our town's young men are spending the winter in California; among them are, Jerome and David Tullis, Keith and Dean Forsyth, Harry P. Knell, Cain Christensen, Allen Hart and Fred Gillies. Fred returned home last week.

Heber E. Harrison and son Albert spent the latter part of the Christmas holidays in Los Angeles on business and pleasure. Mr. Harrison's family is spending the winter in Payson, for more convenient school purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hartman of St. George spent the week end here at the home of Mrs. Hartman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gillis. Mr. Hartman is the mail contractor between Enterprise and St. George.

Miss Roberta Platt is attending school at the U. S. A. C. in Logan this winter. She spent the holidays at home and returned to her school last week.

Paul Martin, who has been operating the R. D. Clark farm ten miles north of here, is in California at this time.

The annual stock holders' meeting of the Desert Reclamation Co. was held last week. The stock holders' meeting of the newly purchased Grassvalley water will be held January 17. The office headquarters of the above mentioned Company is being transferred from Salt Lake City, where it has been located since the beginning of the Incorporation to Newcastle where the water has always been used.
