

Dr. Gustive O. Larson To Address Historical Society

Dr. Gustive O. Larson of the Brigham Young University will be the guest lecturer at the meeting of the Iron County Chapter of the Utah State Historical Society to be held Friday, March 19 at 7 p. m. in the Library Lounge on the CSU campus. Dr. Larson's subject will be "The Church on the Underground."

Dr. Larson is well known locally, having been director of the L. D. S. Institute of Religion in Cedar City some years ago. His many friends are invited to attend Friday's lecture with the chapter members.

Since there are many in the southern Utah area who remember the Underground and the persecutions that brought it about, Dr. Larson's talk should have wide appeal. Stories are still told of children playing United States Marshal in that troublous time, while the grandchildren and great-grandchildren of the story tellers are now playing cops and robbers. The public is invited to share this evening of educational entertainment.

Members of the Chapter's board of control will meet at 6:30 p. m. for the regular business meeting. Since there are several important items to be discussed, Board members are asked to make every effort to attend and to be prompt, so as not to encroach upon the time of the public meeting.
