

Dinner to honor Expedition Riders

An official Dominguez-Escalante Expedition Commemoration Dinner will be held in Cedar City October 11 to welcome riders who are braving modern day hardships by covering the same trail from Sante Fe that Father Excalante did.

There are now 15 riders on the trail and they plan to come some 30 miles from their encampment this side of Milford in one day. If things go according to schedule, the riders (who are now eating their lunch in the saddle) will be escorted into town and down main street prior to the Dinner.

The Dinner will be held at the College at 7 p.m. and feature such treats as baked skillet potatoes, roast beef and rice pudding.

The public is invited to attend and may purchase tickets for $3.50 per person. The tickets will be available at the Iron Mission State Park or may be obtained by contacting the following people: DUP members Arvilla Day,

Ethylyn Haslam, Thora Roundy or Alice Haycock and Zona

Topham in Parowan; LaNell Lunt of the Historical Society; Jack Peterson of the Bureau of Land Management; Theo Corry, or Father Kunz.
