Cheryl's Life Story

My grandma Cheryl Baker Ross is the kindest person you will ever meet, but she has some disabilities like arthritis on her joints. She was born in Ironton, Ohio on May 20, 1947.

Cherly moved away from Ohio to Texas when she was just a kid, but that didn't stop her. She learned to fly a plane and flew to Africa. She loves to go to the beach and go swimming with her grandchildren. We used to like to sing Birdy Birdy In The Tree when I was younger. She also got married to an interesting man and his name is Tres.

She is the oldest on her dad's side. She has 3 children, my uncle Jason, my aunt Tiffeney, and my dad Joel. Her nickname is Granny and she got that nickname when me, my brother, and my sister were born. We visit her every year. Now that she is 79 years old she lives in Florida and loves the beach. Her favorite beach is Sana Rosa beach in Florida. She also likes tanning on the beach. Me and my grandpa like to sing the Bear Song sometimes, she hates it when we sing the Bear Song but we still do it. My grandpa likes to mess around with us, but she yells at us when we goof off but that doesn't stop us.

We love to eat out at Stinky's, it's a really good seafood restaurant in downtown Florida. We went fishing one year and I almost got a baby bull shark just from a minnow but it snapped the line at the last second. We love to eat fish whenever we go down to Florida. She likes to shop for school clothes when we go to Florida because we go at the beginning of the year before school starts. We always go to the beach even if there are red flags. Red flags means that there are big waves and the undertow is strong. Me and my family like to boogie board on tall and big waves. We also have a pool that we mess around in. Our favorite thing to do is swim and eat out at Stinky's. There is a bear behind her house that gets into the trash in the neighborhood. She can really cook too. We have to be careful around ponds because there are alligators all around Florida's ponds. We go to the beach almost every day when we go to Florida. Sometimes I wish I could live there in Florida with my grandma and grandpa. I wish she could live a little bit closer because we drive almost 2,000 miles but out of 10 or more years we only flow one time! I would rather fly than drive to Florida every year. It's just faster and not a waste of money on gas and food.

She deserves a place in everyone's heart. You will never forget her. I'm just glad that she's my grandma and I think you can tell by now that she's the best grandma ever. I love to spend time with her because you never know when she could go and she's just the best. If you couldn't tell by now I love her. You could never find a kinder person than her even if you tried. The thing we mostly do when we visit her is go to the beach. We all love Sana Rosa beach. I mostly love to look for crabs, boogie board, and swim. Me and my grandma Cheryl like to laugh and spend time together. I'm so glad she lives in Florida because I love swimming and so does she. If she never lived there I would be missing out on so much fun. I'm just so glad that she's in my life.

Her parents were married for 65 five years and her dad was a military leader at fort knocks where they stored lots and lots of gold. She had a husband but he died when my dad was only 18 but after that she got married to a very interesting man. I will never forget that moment when I first met my grandma Cheryl. My grandpa acts like a kid all the time and he gets yelled at by my grandma. He has the mind of a 2 year old but the body of a 74 year old but my grandma still loves him very much and so do I. He is so interesting and funny. My grandma is such a fun person to hang out with and I clearly love her.

I think you can tell that she has a very interesting husband because he's pretty interesting. I'm so glad he's my grandpa and she's my grandma. They are perfect and that's all I need. I think he's maybe a little too crazy and sometimes I think she is the best but my grandpa is still pretty good. He acts like he's a toddler so my grandma has to raise her voice at him but he doesn't stop. I'm glad I have a crazy grandpa and the best grandma. He likes to goof off all the time and he doesn't care where we are because he will still goof off know matter what.

The point is that he's very interesting and Cheryl's a very kind and nice person.
