My cool grampa Jay Allen May

My grampa was the best. His name was Jay Allen May. He was born on December 27, 1938 in Oak City Utah. He passed away on February 20, 2011. That was a year before I was born. My mom loved him so much and I am sure I would too.

My grandpa's biggest life challenge was when he was in the hospital sick with Lewy Body Dementia. He overcame it by being patient and calm.

The next thing I am about to tell you is his sweet hobbies and talents. His talents were baseball, football, and wresling. His hobbies were fishing and playing with his grandkids.

Some things that we have in common are his first name Jay is my middle name. Also he loved sports just like I love sports. His thing to eat was ICE CREAM. He had a bowl of it every night. One more thing is he loved atv rides, just like me.

My grandma's favorite memory with my grandpa was when they would dance in the kitchen to a song called Ring of Fire. He was so kind to everyone. Now you read a memory of my grandma. Here is one of my mom's, when my mom and her siblings would be in bed my grandpa would stomp on the ground to wake them up and if they didn't come up they knew they were in trouble. However he would make them an egg mcmuffin every morning.

Something really cool about my grandpa was his mission. He served his mission in Arizona to the Navajo native americans. He loved it so much, especially the kids. That is where he decided to be a teacher.

After his mission he went home and taught third grade for thirty years. He taught my mom for one year, she said he was very funny and I believe that from what my mom and grandma tell me.

My grandpa had a really cool nickname. His nickname was mazer. He got it when he was in high school sports.

One more interesting fact about my grandpa is he is the sixth oldest. He has eight siblings. Crazy right.

Now you know how cool and crazy my grandpa is. You now memories and when he was born. Hope you enjoyed.
