At the Republican State convention held in Salt Lake City on the 20th inst., Joseph Howell was nominated to succeed himself as representative in the congress of the United States, and Joseph E. Frick was nominated for the Supreme bench. Hon. Joseph Howell has made a faithful and able congressman, and is well liked by the members of his party throughout the state. Judge Frick is well spoken of, and stands high among the members of the bar in Salt Lake. It behooves the democrats to place good men in nomination now, for they will have strong candidates to run against.
