

Typical Utah Man.

Mr. R. L. Jones hails from Cedar City, Utah, the land of many wives. He is a typical Utah man as may be seen in the shop at any time by a careful observer. He is a graduate of a Normal School at his home and attended the University of Utah one year. He taught High School two years. By trade he is a carpenter and is at present assistant to Prof. Black in the Manual Training Shop. The coming year he will teach in Murdock Academy, Beaver, Utah.—Vaparaiso Herald.
