Our Water System.

Perhaps no improvement that has ever been made in our city for many years has given more general satisfaction or been of mure tenefit than the bringing into the water mains the water of the cold springs during the early part of last summer. It has teen a positive luxury to drink this clear cold water and while the waters of the creek have been so fithy that a person could almost see disease and death lurking in them we have derived double satisfaction by the con trast. The city fathers have in mind the bringing to of some more springs that will so materialy increase the water copply that there will not only be plenty for all domestic use, but siso a supply for the irrigation of the lawns and flower beds. However, there will still remain a very improtant improvement to be made and that is the elimination of the old wooden water pipes which are a continual scures of vexacion to the community, and a perpetual thorn in the flesh of the city watermaster. They seem to have about served their time and are continually causing serious interruption in the domestic harmony of the citizens, and very unpleasant labor for the officer. There seems to be no move, at present. being made to get rid of these old pipes; doubt. less owing to the financial condition of the municipality. But our knowledge or the progressive character of of our city council assures us that as soon as conditions will permit they will energatically and successfully tackle to is important work. W s often the critica ve think are c wrong There can be no doubt the icon pices would have been better, and no one was better aware of this feet than the men who had the putting in of the watersystem in the first place. But they bad to cut their garment according to the cluth, and as better cutinary water was badly, indeed imperatively needed, they did the very best that was possible under the circumstances, and if we get no more cut of those old wooden pipes than we have already had we are nothing out of pocket, for it is certainly a fact that the convenience we have bad during the years that have elapsed since their installment has been worth what it has cost. But let us have new ones as soon as a plan for meeting the expenses can be wised.
