

Bronco Track and Field Team Dominates B. Y. U. Invitational

The Branch Agricultural college track and field team completely dominated the Junior college division of the BYU invitational meet at Provo Saturday. The Bronco team, coached by Murray Maughan, walked off with first place in all events but three, made a clean sweep in two or three events, and in several others took all the places but one.

Bill Boughton of Westminster took first in two of the events the Broncos did not win, the mile and two mile races, while Art Jensen of Weber college won the 220 yard dash for the other first place lost by BAC. In both the mile and the 220 the BAC placed second, third, fourth and fifth, although unable to win first in the event. Maughan's squad also won two of the places in the two mile event.

The next meet for the Bronco squad will be the Intermountain Collegiate Athletic Conference meet to be held on the BAC campus on Friday, May 13. Competition for the BAC is expected to be much stronger than it has encountered in any meet during the past three seasons.

Every school in the conference with the possible exception of Snow college from Ephraim, will enter the conference meet, including BAC, Dixie, Carbon, Weber, Westminster, Ricks, Albion and Boise.

The three Idaho schools are expected to enter strong, well balanced teams, and plenty of competition will certainly develop.

Try-outs for the conference meeting will be held during the forenoon, with finals to be staged under the lights of the BAC stadium Friday evening, May 13. A baseball game between BAC and Snow will be played during the afternoon.
