Bob Bradshaw wins accord by Utah Pilots Association

On March 15, Bob Bradshaw was awarded the "Outstanding Service to Aviation" award by the Utah Pilot Association at their annual Banquet.

Once a year the UPA awards the pilot who has contributed most to some phase of general aviation. Mr. Bradshaw was honored for his support of general aviation for more than 30 years and for his continuous efforts in search and rescue.

The banquet consisted of 200 of some of Utah's most distinguished pilots.

Local people representing family and Color Canyons Aviation were also in attendance.
